

SECURITY IN CONFLICT ZONES

OAM is a security risk management company that originated in Australia in 1998 before evolving its operations internationally in order to deal with the multiple threat environments confronting international business.

OAM has a strong reputation for its professional approach to securing personnel and assets in areas of conflict and where there is a "High Risk" security profile.

Over the past decade, OAM has provided security services in countries in the Middle East, Africa and SE Asia, where there are high risk armed threats against personnel, infrastructure and assets.

This includes threats as diverse as civil conflict in Iraq, terrorism in Nigeria and banditry in Brazil. OAM establishes close liaison with, and engages at the operations level with, relevant national security agencies.

